PTA Branding
We want to deliver a consistent, clear, and uniform presence for all PTA-produced materials. When used properly, the National PTA logo and tagline help unify all PTAs and create awareness of the PTA brand. Applied consistently, these guidelines will create distinctive, credible, and sustainable messaging for all supporting PTA units, resulting in the organization working as one association with one voice.

Style Guide
Style aids communication.
Creating a uniform presentation extends well beyond print. It helps make your message clear to the audience. The purpose of a stylebook is to ensure this clarity.

Attention to style is efficient.
When someone drafts and proofs materials, a substantial amount of time might be spent rewriting content that does not adhere to style. Instead, this time should be spent carefully crafting the message, making it more powerful and effective.

Style also protects the integrity of our brand.
Poor grammar, misspellings, and inconsistencies reflect poorly on an association. An association that advocates for children, particularly their education, should be a strong proponent of a consistent style.

Logo Usage
The National PTA logo is the core element of the PTA visual identity. It should be seen on all external-facing media and on internal business communication pieces. In order to maintain a greater level of consistency, the logo should only be reproduced from approved electronic files and should never be altered or distorted in any way. Preformatted custom logos are available for download at CAPTA.org.

Use of the PTA Name
Groups cannot use the PTA name without our prior written approval. While PTA has become a part of American vocabulary, in the same way that people might call any soft drink "Coke" or any facial tissue "Kleenex," the name is protected with a number of federal trademarks and has been for more than 100 years.

Companies cannot use the PTA name in any manner that claims or could reasonably be inferred to suggest a relationship that does not exist. Companies may, however, reference PTA in statements of fact, for example, company X can state that it offers services to PTAs.

If you see the PTA name used in an inappropriate way or have related questions, please contact National PTA’s Director of Strategic Communications.

Quick responses are important for social media; so this guide can help you feel comfortable re-tweeting, sharing and posting on social media. Some pre-planning can also help with quick responses. BUT always remember, if in doubt leave it out. This is offered as a guide it is not an all inclusive list.

E-MAIL ETIQUETTE AND TIPS

Use the “4 Ds for Decision-Making”
- Dedicate time for e-mail every day
- Do the action requested in the message
- Delete it
- Defer it until later or delegate it someone else

General Tips
- Be informal, not sloppy
- Keep messages brief and to the point
- Use sentence case
- Use a signature that includes contact information
- Use the subject field to indicate content and purpose
- Change the subject line when the email topic changes
- Use the blind copy and courtesy copy appropriately
- Be sparing with group e-mail
- Don’t use e-mail as an excuse to avoid personal contact
- Remember that e-mail isn’t private
  - Do no harm
  - Do not share passwords, user names, or credit card information
- Don’t send chain letters, virus warnings, or junk e-mail
- Summarize long discussions
  - If you are forwarding or re-posting a message you’ve received, do not change the wording
  - If you want to re-post to a group a message that you’ve received personally, ask the author for permission first.

How to compose an e-mail to someone you don’t know
- Be sure to include a meaningful subject line.
- Open your e-mail with a greeting like Dear Mrs. Jones or Ms. Smith.
- Use standard spelling, punctuation, and capitalization.
- Write clear, short paragraphs and be direct and to the point.
- Be friendly and cordial.

Suggestions for continuing e-mail conversations
- Once you have exchanged e-mails with a person on a given subject, it is probably okay to leave greetings off of your following emails, but it is better to use some kind of salutations.
- Try to respond within a reasonable time frame. (24 hours)
BEWARE OF EMAIL PHISHING SCAMS

As the new term begins, we would like to remind all of our leaders about the dangers of email phishing. A phishing scam may ask you to send money, gift cards, or personal information to someone you trust from within your organization. A phishing email might appear to come from a district president, the IRS, or another officer in your unit.

Here are some best practices to keep in mind if you get an email that doesn’t feel right:

- Contact the person directly. Call them or text them to check and see if they actually sent you the email in question. Having what experts call “back channels” can prevent you from divulging important information or losing money.
- PTA always requires a paper trail for financial dealings, and we never wire money or pay for things using gift cards. If you are in doubt, contact your president and treasurer to ask about the validity of the request.
- Never click on links in emails that you suspect are phishing. If you would like to look more closely at it, you can copy it and paste it into its own browser page. Often times you will notice that it mimics the emails that your unit uses, but that it isn’t quite the same.
- Trust your gut. If you think it doesn’t sound right (for example, why would my unit president need me to send her $500 right away?), then it probably is phishing.
